Jelen, 2007-02-13 Dvora Baron 1887-1956 has been called the founding mother of Hebrew women's literature Born in a small town on the outskirts of Minsk to the community rabbi Baron immigrated from the Jewish Pale of Settlement to Palestine in 1910 Although she was not the only woman writing in Hebrew in the first few decades of the twentieth century Baron was the only woman to achieve recognition in the canon of modern Hebrew fiction during that period As such her work reflects both the revolutionary and conservative qualities of the Modern Hebrew Renaissance Rooted in the Jewish tradition and using the Hebrew language as its battle cry the Modern Hebrew Renaissance can be said to have distinguished itself from its patriarchal past by fostering a woman's literary emergence At the same time the fact that Dvora Baron was the only woman writing in the first decades of the twentieth century who was included into the Renaissance's literary canon indicates the movement's resistance to its own potentially revolutionary nature Sheila E. Jelen reveals how Baron viewed her own singularity and what this teaches us about the contours of the Modern Hebrew Renaissance its imperatives and assumptions its successes and failures This is the first full-length English language treatment of Baron's Hebrew corpus It will be of interest to scholars of literary studies gender studies Jewish cultural studies Jewish literary studies and Hebrew literary studies History of the Mongols [?], 1880 History of the Mongols Sir Henry Hoyle Howorth, 1880 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work was reproduced from the original artifact and remains as true to the original work as possible Therefore you will see the original copyright references library stamps as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world and other notations in the work This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work As a reproduction of a historical artifact this work may contain missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant Who Healeth All Thy Diseases Eli Davis, 1975 History of the Mongols from the 9th to 19th Century Henry Hoyle Howorth (Sir), 1880 History of the Mongols, from the 9th to the 19th Century: The so-called Tartars of Russia and Central Asia. 2 v Sir Henry Hoyle Howorth, 1880 The Wine Route of Israel Eliezer Sacks, 2008 Books to Help Children Cope with Separation and Loss Joanne E.
