Dynamical Systems An International Symposium Volume 2 contains the proceedings of the International Symposium on Dynamical Systems held at Brown University in Providence Rhode Island on August 12 16 1974 The symposium provided a forum for reviewing the theory of dynamical systems in relation to ordinary and functional differential equations as well as the influence of this approach and the techniques of ordinary differential equations on research concerning certain types of partial differential equations and evolutionary equations in general Comprised of six chapters this volume first examines how the theory of isolating blocks may be applied to the Newtonian planar three body problem The reader is then introduced to the separatrix structure for regions attracted to solitary periodic solutions solitary invariant sets and singular points and separatrices Subsequent chapters focus on the equivalence of suspensions and manifolds with cross section a geometrical approach to classical mechanics bifurcation theory for odd potential operators and continuous dependence of fixed points of condensing maps This monograph will be of interest to students and practitioners in the field of applied mathematics
