Das Neue Berlin:

The New Tenement Florian Urban, 2017-10-12 This book examines new tenements dense medium rise multi storey residences that have been the backbone of European inner city regeneration since the 1970s and came with a new positive view on urban living Focusing principally on Berlin Copenhagen Glasgow Rotterdam and Vienna it relates architectural design to an evolving intellectual framework that mixed anti modernist criticism with nostalgic images and strategic goals and absorbed ideas about the city as a generator of creativity locale of democratic debate and object of personal identification This book analyses new tenements in the context of the post functionalist city and its mixed use neighbourhoods redeveloped industrial sites and regenerated waterfronts It demonstrates that these buildings are both generators and outcome of an urban environment characterised by information exchange rather than industrial production individual expression rather than mass culture visible history rather than comprehensive renewal and conspicuous difference rather than egalitarianism It also shows that new tenements evolved under a welfare state that all over Europe has come under pressure but still to a certain degree balances and controls heterogeneity and economic disparities Science

Fiction Literature in East Germany Sonja Fritzsche, 2006 East German science fiction enabled its authors to create a subversive space in another time and place One of the country's most popular genres it outlined futures that often went beyond the party's official version Many utopian stories provided a corrective vision intended to preserve and improve upon East German communism This study is an introduction to East German science fiction The book begins with a chapter on German science fiction before 1949 It then spans the entire existence of the country 1949 1990 and outlines key topics essential to understanding the genre popular literature socialist realism censorship fandom and international science fiction An in depth discussion addresses notions of high and low literature elements of the fantastic and utopia as critical narrative strategies ideology and realism in East German literature gender and the relation between literature and science Through a close textual analysis of three science fiction novels the author expands East German literary history to include science fiction as a valuable source for developing a multi faceted understanding of the country's short history Finally an epilogue notes new titles and developments since the fall of the Berlin Wall Against the Commons Álvaro

Sevilla-Buitrago, 2022-09-27 An alternative history of capitalist urbanization through the lens of the commons Characterized by shared self managed access to food housing and the basic conditions for a creative life the commons are essential for communities to flourish and protect spaces of collective autonomy from capitalist encroachment In a narrative spanning more than three centuries Against the Commons provides a radical counterhistory of urban planning that explores how capitalism and spatial politics have evolved to address this challenge Highlighting episodes from preindustrial England New York City and Chicago between the 1850s and the early 1900s Weimar era Berlin and neoliberal Milan Ivaro Sevilla Buitrago shows how capitalist urbanization has eroded the egalitarian convivial life worlds around the commons The book combines detailed archival research with provocative critical theory to illuminate past and ongoing struggles over land shared resources public space neighborhoods creativity and spatial imaginaries Against the Commons underscores the ways urbanization shapes the social fabric of places and territories lending particular awareness to the impact of planning and design initiatives on working class communities and popular strata Projecting history into the future it outlines an alternative vision for a postcapitalist urban planning one in which the structure of collective spaces is ultimately defined by the people who inhabit them

Staging the New Berlin Claire Colomb,2013-06-17 This book explores the politics of place marketing and the process of urban reinvention in Berlin between 1989 and 2011 In the context of the dramatic socio economic restructuring processes changes in urban governance and physical transformation of the city following the Fall of the Wall the new Berlin was not only being built physically but staged for visitors and Berliners and marketed to the world through events and image campaigns which featured the iconic architecture of large scale urban redevelopment sites Public private partnerships were set up specifically to market the new Berlin to potential investors tourists Germans and the Berliners themselves The book analyzes the images of the city and the narrative of urban change which were produced over two decades In the 1990s three key sites were turned into icons of the new Berlin the new Postdamer Platz the new government quarter and the redeveloped historical core of the Friedrichstadt Eventually the entire inner city was staged through a series of events which turned construction sites into tourist attractions New sites and spaces gradually became part of the 2000s place marketing imagery and narrative as urban leaders sought to promote the creative city By combining urban political economy and cultural approaches from the disciplines of urban politics geography sociology and planning the book contributes to a better understanding of the interplay between the symbolic politics of representation through place marketing and the politics of urban development and place making in contemporary urban governance
