the situation of citizens This is particularly true with constitutions Constitutions are very important for societies a constitution is a document even in societies based on unwritten constitutions which binds citizens together creating unity among them and which forms the framework within which our activities take place As Nobel Prize laureate James Buchanan used to say constitutions contain the rules of the social game we play in our everyday life However constitutions are not frequently debated by citizens This is why we end up with common beliefs about these constitutions they are above our heads around us We take them their role function and nature as given The purpose of this volume to investigate and challenge common constitutional myths Featuring contributions from prominent economists political scientists and legal scholars the chapters in this volume address such myths as constitutions are binding social contracts constitutions are economic documents and constitutions are legal documents Illustrating their analyses with historical and contemporary examples from the United States Canada and Europe the authors build a multi layered approach to understanding constitutions and their implications for social and political influence
