Dying Voices:

Dying Voices Laura Wilson,2001 In Dying Voices a young woman discovers that her mother believed to be dead for the last 20 years is alive or was until 48 hours ago

Filming Death Outi Hakola,2024-04-30 End of life documentaries have proliferated in the 21st century as various organisations institutions journalists independent filmmakers and members of the public have wanted to give death and dying a face in the public discussion Each documentary film that concerns individuals with a terminal illness in hospice care or desiring assisted death redefines cultural expectations of what dying is and feels like These films invite their viewers to witness intimate and emotional moments of dying people including moments on their deathbed Filming Death explores these documentaries as ethical spaces asking the viewers to learn how to engage with end of life through the experiences of others and to find ways to alleviate potential death anxiety The book argues that the diversity of documentary films resists simplified moral divisions between good and bad death and instead embellishes diverse realities where dying takes many forms ranging from death acceptance to raging to death

The Eaglet. Chanticleer Edmond Rostand,1921

Playwrights in Rehearsal Susan Letzler Cole,2001 Playwrights in Rehearsal is an inside look at the writer s role in the creative process of bringing his or her words to life on stage Susan Letzler Cole granted rare access to some of the major playwrights of our time recounts her participation in rehearsal with Arthur Miller Sam Shepard Tony Kushner and Suzan Lori Parks and others

Epic Negation C.D. Blanton,2015-03-12 The history of the epic ranging from the heroic narratives of cultural origin found in Homer and Virgil to the tumultuous theological and political conflicts depicted by Dante or Milton is nearly as old as literature itself But the epic is also made and remade by its present adapted to the pressures and formal necessities of its particular cultural moment Examining modernist poetry s epic turn in the years between the two World Wars C D Blanton s ambitious study charts the inversion of what Ezra Pound called a poem including history into a fractured and hollowed form a negated epic that struggles not only to acknowledge the distant past but also to conceive its immediate present Compelled to register the force of a larger historical totality it cannot directly represent the negated epic reorients the function of poetic language trading expression or signification for concrete but often buried reference remaking the poem as an instrument of dialectical reason in the process Epic Negation turns first to T S Eliot productively pairing The Waste Land with The Criterion the literary review it announced in 1922 to argue that Eliot s journal systematically realizes the editorial and critical method through which modernism s epochal poem sought to think its moment whole developing a totalizing account of interwar culture Dividing the epic s critical function from its style The Criterion not only includes history differently but also formulates an intricately dialectical account of the crisis facing bourgeois society formed in the image of a Marxism it opposes World War II s approach serves to organize the second half of Blanton s study as he traces the dislocated formal effects of a serial epic gone underground In the tense elegies and pastorals of W H Auden and Louis MacNeice lyric forms
