The inscriptions on ceramics and minor objects* Karl Lehmann, 1958 The Homiletic Review, 1893 The Trojan War: Chronological, Historical and Archaeological Evidence Gerard Gertoux, 2015 The Trojan War is the foundation of Greek history If Greek historians had little doubt of its existence they remained extremely sceptical regarding its mythological origin Archaeology has confirmed one essential point there was indeed a general conflagration in the Greek world around 1200 BCE the assumed period of that war which caused the disappearance of two powerful empires Mycenaean on one hand and Hittite with its vassals on the other hand The inscriptions of Ramses III s year 8 describe actually a general invasion of the Mediterranean by the Sea Peoples A precise chronological reconstruction shows that there was a confrontation between a Greek heterogeneous confederation consisting of pirates and a set of vassal kingdoms of the Hittite empire such as Troy and Ugarit which ended with their complete mutual destruction in 1185 BCE the climax of the Trojan War This conclusion was already that of Eratosthenes A history of the New meeting house, Kidderminster, 1782-1900 Evan David Priestley Evans, 1900 A history of the founding of the church about 1785 Data about nonconformist ministers The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art, 1884 Epigraphia Indica and Record of the Archæological Survey of India, 1918 The National Review, China, 1915 Commentary on books IX-X: Boeotia, Phocis.
